

Module name:	Veterinary jurisprudence
ECTS:	2
Learning effects	Course outcomes:
Knowledge:	1	Student knows legal provisions governing the exercise of the occupation of veterinary surgeon
	2	Student knows the values and principles of the code of ethics of the veterinarian
	3	Student knows legal responsibility of the veterinarian
	4	Student describes the procedure for the professional responsibility of the veterinarian
	5	Student summarize rules for veterinary services
Skills:	1	Student assesses the compliance of the veterinarian with the rules of the profession
	2	Student discusses legal requirements governing the veterinary profession
	3	Student recognizes and constructs basic elements of a judicial opinion
	4	Student organises the correct provision of veterinary services
Competences:	1	Student is prepared to cooperate with representatives of other professions in the field of public health protection
	2	Student is prepared to look for current sources of knowledge and continuing education
	3	Student is prepared to use legal acts
	4	Student is ready to critically assess knowledge of veterinary ethics
	5	Student is prepared to work in a team
	6	Student is ready to show responsibility for the decisions made towards people, animals and the environment
	7	Student is ready to present an attitude consistent with the principles of ethics and the rule of law
Objectives of the module required to obtain learning effects:	Right after graduation from the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, a veterinarian can start to exercise his or her learned profession on his or her own. Therefore, it is necessary for the graduate to have basic knowledge about the principles of the veterinary profession, limitations in its performance and legal liability associated with the performance of medical and veterinary activities. During the course, students will gain knowledge about the sources of professional, civil and criminal liability of vets. They will become aware of the rules of performing the profession and providing veterinary services and the rules of formulating opinions.
Assessment methods:	Case study, exercise cards, seminars, written test	